THE SALVATION ARMY Coleman Corps

With winter coming on, there are many calls at our door by unfortunate men who find themselves without sufficient clothing for the cold weather. We are always glad to help, but can only do so in as much as we have the co-operation of those who are a little better off. You can help by getting in touch with us or by sending any cast-off clothing to the Salvation Army Hall. You can be assured that it will be put to good use.

The remains of John Alexander McDonald were laid to rest on Thursday afternoon last. The funeral was largely attended. Service was held at the United church. Rev. MOTORISTS WILL FIGHT FURTHER GAS TAX JUMP

Any action by the new provincial government to raise the gasoline tax in this province will meet with the strong opposition of the Alberta Motor Association, officials state.

It is realized that when the government admits that the treasury is empty and it is hard pressed for funds, there is a danger of a further levy on the motor car owners. When Alberta tax was raised from six to seven cents a gallon this year, there were threats that the validity of the legislation might be challenged.

Alberta was the first province to impose this tax, levying it in 1922 when the rate was two cents per gallon. That rate has been climbing ever since, but Alberta still is below Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, each having an eight cent tax.

But each year those provinces stepped out and undertook extensive paving programs for their main highways.

The severe burden the gasoline tax bears on motorists at present is shown in the estimate that, on the average, motorists pay a one cent gasoline tax for every three miles they travel. Over the season the tax amounts to a fairly substantial sum, and there is the fairly stiff car license fee in addition.

The resentment which many motorists have against the gasoline tax could be moderated if the government took $2,000,000 of the $3,000,000 gas tax revenue for example and applied it to pay off a $20,000,000 loan to be used entirely for a hard surfacing program for this province. Spread over 20 years, the issue could be paid off by applying two-thirds of the revenue from the gas tax for this purpose.

NIGHT CLASSES IN MINING

A meeting will be held in the general offices of the West Canadian Collieries on Friday evening, November the 1st, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of forming night classes in mining and mining mathematics. All those interested in this work are requested to attend this meeting. The classes, as in the past, will be held under the supervision of the local school board and run in connection with the Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary.

BELLEVUE UNITED CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

The anniversary services held Sunday last at the Bellevue United church were well attended.

At the evening service, the church was filled to capacity. The guest preacher was Rev. Harry Peters, of Granum, a former pastor, who brought inspiring messages at both services.

The choir, under the leadership of Mrs. R. Upton, greatly assisted in the success of the day, and the singing of the special numbers, "Lift Up Your Heads" and the "Hallelujah Chorus," together with Mrs. Upton's solo, "Babylon," received high commendation.

The anniversary supper-concert on the following Monday evening was well attended, in spite of severe weather conditions.

Voluntary reduction of the high salaries of the Liquor Control Board staff has been made. While definite figures are not available, it is understood that the salary of R. J. Dinning is being reduced from $9,000 to between $5,000 and $6,000 a year.

Barney Caufield, superintendent of the Michel mines, who a couple of weeks ago sustained rather serious injuries when struck by a falling rock in the mine, is reported recovering nicely. He is a patient in the Michel hospital.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL CLOSES SESSIONS ON SATURDAY

Once again the Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival has come and gone, and not without the usual attendant amount of interest and display of exceptional talent. The 1935 festival, the eleventh since inauguration in spring of 1924 through the direct instrumentality of Rev. W. T. Young, pastor at that time of the United church here, and since then supplying missions at Calgary and Edmonton, was fairly well attended throughout and voted a success in every way but financial.

Considerable satisfaction has been expressed with the manner of adjudication adopted by Mr. Cyril Hampshire, of Regina, who throughout the entire three-day programme was compelled to voice the opinion that never in his music career has he been confronted with such a near 100 per cent volume of talent. The winners throughout are given below, the first named in all cases attaining highest marks in that particular class. We are compelled through crowded space to omit figures, except in a few cases which were classed outstanding.

Purchasers of new cars in November and December this year will not be required to buy a part-time 1935 Ontario automobile license, it has been announced. Instead, these purchasers can buy their 1936 plates after Nov. 1 and these licenses will carry them to the end of December, 1936.

Canton Takes Action

Would Bar Small Merchants From Importing Old Newspapers

The practice of small merchants in China, who wrap purchases in old American newspapers, may be halted by a measure put before the Canton Government to curtail such importations, the Department of Commerce reports.

The extent of the practice is shown by the fact that the city of Canton alone imported over $1,000,000 worth of such old newspapers in 1934.

Chinese paper manufacturers succeeded last year in stopping the merchants from so wrapping fresh foodstuffs, the Commerce Department said, and it is now planned to prohibit the importation of old newspapers.

Was Famous Cartoonist

Sidney Smith Creator Of The Gumps,
Killed In Automobile Accident

An automobile crash in Illinois ended the career of Sidney Smith, cartoonist-philosopher, who made "Oh Min" and "Soup'n'or" household phrases in many lands.

The veteran creator of "The Gumps," "Old Doc Yak" and "Ching Chow" who dropped pearls of wisdom and humor from his lips each day, was dead when they removed him from the wreckage of his car.

Smith, who was 58, ranked with Claire Briggs as probably the greatest portrayers of life through the medium of cartoons. The daily doings of Andy and Min Gump, Little Chester and the fabulously wealthy Uncle Bim, their joys and their sorrows, have been a comic page feature for years.

More recently Smith introduced "Ching Chow," a little Oriental of few words and much wisdom. This box cartoon was made to tell readers such things as "The slave has but one master—the ambitious as many as there are people likely to be useful to him."

Smith's noted career started when he was but 18, making him one of the real oldsters of the game. The ranks of the veterans are thin. "Gus" Herriman, artful drawer of "Krazy Kat" and Bud Fisher, creator of "Mutt and Jeff," remaining as probably the two best known among the old hands.

Among the intimate little twists Smith got out of his work was the license number 348. Long as it appeared on Yak's auto. Then he transferred it to Andy Gump's half-pint gas buggy. Only Smith's intimates knew that 348 was the cartoonist's own motor permit number and was issued to him for many years.

Smith's attorney, E. Williams, disclosed that a few hours before the fatal journey the cartoonist had renewed his contract with the Chicago-Tribune-New York News syndicate. He said it stipulated the payment of $750,000 for a five-year period.

A native of Bloomington, Ill., Smith had been a staff member of the Chicago Tribune since 1911. He began his career as a cartoonist on the Bloomington Eye in 1895.

New Gold Discovery

Several Groups Of Claims Staked In Ontario Near Manitoba Boundary

A new gold discovery in the north-west corner of Ontario, where several groups of claims have already been staked was announced by Hon. Paul Leduc, Ontario minister of mines, who said the new area "appears a favorable one for prospecting."

David Foster, prospect for a Winnipeg group, was credited with the discovery. The area, it said, which quartz exposures were said to exist in three places over one 300-foot stretch, is 40 miles east of the Manitoba boundary and more than 200 miles north of the Red Lake district. It surrounds the Sachigo river.

On Roof Of World

Successful Truck Gardening Is Possible At High Altitudes

Potatoes and other vegetables will grow at an altitude of over 7,200 feet in the Pamirs, "the Roof of the World," according to Professor M. Baranov, who recently conducted experiments for the Soviet Government. He declares that truck gardening is possible in the lofty mountains. The potatoes were grown from seeds, and tomato, cabbage, pepper and egg plant seeds are successfully taking root.

Huge Sum In Tips

Chimney Sweeps In Yugoslavian Town Earn Good Money

Last year the 27 municipal chimney sweeps of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, earned between them, apart from the $130,000—almost $50,000. This is far more than many bank managers earn there. Sweeps in Zagreb are paid a monthly sum whether the chimneys need sweeping or not. They are then responsible for the cleanliness of all chimneys and for any fires due to chimneys not being properly cleaned.

Place Men On Farms

Alberta Government Planning To Care For Single Unemployed Men

A plan under which from 3,000 to 4,000 single unemployed men would be placed on farms this winter is being considered by the Alberta government, Premier Aberhart stated. The plan is an extension of the farm scheme operated during the past two years. While the unemployed men would be given $5 a month as formerly, a similar sum would also be paid to the farmer.

Another suggestion is that such unemployed placed on farms under this scheme would not be required to work more than five hours a day.

Paving the way for the $5 minimum cash payment month to rural families in need of relief, an order-in-council has been passed by the provincial government. As a result, municipal secretaries are being circulated in order that the plan can be brought to the attention of rural authorities and the extent of the response gauged by the government.

The plan was outlined recently by Premier Aberhart who said it would not be regarded as providing a real "basic dividend." While the minimum amount was set at $5 which would be provided by the government, the municipality would be expected to match it with $2.50. As compensation for its contribution, the municipality could require the relief recipient to give some return in work. If the size of the family justified more than the minimum, this would be provided, while as the sum increased, the municipality's share would be proportionately increased.

Applying For A Job

Girl Stated Qualifications But Neglected To Sign Her Name

A girl applied yesterday to Walter Lister, city editor of the Post, for a reporter's job—but she disappeared. "Are you prejudiced against women in the newspaper game?" she asked. "Mr. Lister replied: 'It isn't that I'm prejudiced—but I find that most of them are careless and sloppy in their work.' . . . Send me a letter, though, listing your qualifications, and I'll place it on file."

The letter arrived—a two-page note, carefully typewritten, and listing qualifications tending to offset any suggestions of carelessness. "The lady, however, forgot to sign her name!"—Leonard Lyons, in New York Post.

Runs Into Misfortune

First Woman To Swim English Channel Has Hard Luck

Gertrude Ederle, the girl who ten years ago was the first woman to swim the English channel, can now swim only a few feet. Her back injured in a fall, she is fighting to retain the control of her legs. In addition, misfortune has dogged her in that she has become partially deaf because of all the swimming she did, and the money she made after her channel swim has been lost on unwise investments.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 3

JUDAH TAKEN CAPTIVE

Golden Text: Righteousness exalteth a nation: But sin is a reproach to any people. Proverbs 14:34.
Lesson: II Kings 24:1 to 25:21; Jeremiah 39:1-18.
Devotional reading: Psalm 107:10-18.

Explanations And Comments

The Siege of Jerusalem, verses 1-3. In the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, 586 B.C., in the tenth month according to the Babylonian calendar (which numbered its months from the spring season, the tenth month corresponding to our January), and on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came with his army and besieged Jerusalem. "The nation never forgot the armies of Chaldean finally invested the city. It was felt as the day of the great gloom by the Israelite exiles, Ezekiel 24. It has been commemorated as a fast, the Fast of Tebeth, ever since in the Jewish Church" (Dean Stanley).

The Flight from Jerusalem and the Fate of Zedekiah, verses 4-7. When a breach was finally made in the city walls, the Israelites fled by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. This gate was on the south of the city. The Israelites must have known that there was little chance of making good their escape, for the Chaldeans surrounded the city.

The Fate of Jerusalem, verses 8-10, 13-17. On the seventh day of the fifth month, Nebuzaradan, the captain of Nebuchadnezzar's guard (officially "chief of the executioners," the king's bodyguard to whom such duties belonged), came to complete the destruction of Jerusalem. The work of devastation was thoroughly done. The gold and silver vessels, and the pillars and vessels of brass of the temple were saved to be carried to Babylon and then the sacred temple, on which such a passion of love had been lavished, was razed to the ground. The king's palace, and every great house in the city were burned, and the city walls were broken down.

The Fate of the People, verses 11, 12, 22. The commander of the body guard carried off as prisoners the people left in the city and those who had already surrendered to the king of Babylon, as well as the rest of the people (Jeremiah 39:10, Moffatt's translation). The poorest of the people were left to cultivate the land, as vine-dressers and husbandmen.

Canadian Premiers

Fifteen Ministers Since The Time Of Confederation

After all these weeks of discussion of Canadian folk, how many could name the premiers since Confederation, 1867? Sir John A. MacDonald, 1868; Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, 1873; Sir John A. MacDonald, 1878; Sir John Abbott, 1891; Sir John Thompson, 1892; Sir Mackenzie Bowell, 1894; Sir Charles Tupper, 1896; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 1896; Sir Robert Borden, 1911; Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, 1920; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1921; Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, 1926; Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, 1926; Hon. R. B. Bennett, 1929; and now add Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, 1935. There have been fifteen ministers, two being headed by Sir Robert Borden during his tenure of office, one being Conservative and the other the Unionist War Cabinet.

And this one in crochet meets with her loud approval for all her forecasts point to crochet as an outstanding note for Fall and Winter. The toque is so simple to make and has, as chief decoration, a cable effect that is very lovely. The muff-purse—and how we all love that—repeats the design of the toque. Select Base For Ocean Hooks A Bean For A Meal

Nearly Two Million Dollars Set Aside For Air Site

A 900-acre property, four miles from Sydney, N.S., has been selected as the site for a $1,750,000 North American terminus of the projected ocean air service, C. H. Clendinning, chairman of the Irish Transatlantic Air Corporation, announced recently. Owned by the Nova Scotia government, the property has been deeded to the corporation and will be developed along the lines proposed for the eastern terminus at Londonderry, northern Ireland.

Planning the "quickest practical route" for air transportation between the Old Country and North America, the chairman said the terminus at Sydney would be leased to other corporations connecting the ocean service with Canadian and United States lines. The planes, he said, would provide accommodation for 45 persons beside facilities for handling mail.

Natural Growth Is Five Or Six Feet In Length

One of the first Australian beans on the North American continent, grew at the rate of one inch a day in a back yard garden plot in Roseville, Mich.

The bean, produced by Louis Jeffries, a disabled war veteran, has attained the length of 31 and one-half inches and is 10 and one-half inches in circumference.

Jeffries' vegetable prodigy is one of two on a vine produced from seed sent to the veteran by a friend in New Zealand.

"The soil is different here and the climate is too cold," Jeffries remarked to questioners. "I expect each of my beans will be big enough to provide a square meal before they stop growing."

Jeffries, an electrician before the world war, has been able to work only as a watchman since he was disabled in service. He has devoted his spare time to developing unusual vegetables, fruits and hybrids in his small garden.

The Australian bean, pale green in color, grows to a length of five or six feet in its native soil. It is highly esteemed as food.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a girl, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with a care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge.

Nancy set out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matt Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help until Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy writes home to get her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to lend her.

Nancy's parents and friends gave their liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adams boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look respectable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adams, Nancy go to the parsonage home of Matt's uncle for a visit. There they find Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the swirling snow they collide with a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheels resting in a snow-dilled gully. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help. The next morning Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the party of children and Nancy are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen and Jack is seriously ill with pneumonia, but both of them recover.

Now Go On With The Story

He blushed a little; and Nancy said: "I'll admit that Jack is it took pluck to leave even the cold shelter of that bus, you know. But to make a fuss over me is—just ridiculous! I'd have been a coward to leave those kiddies freeze to death and not do everything I could. You know I would!"

There was silence a moment before Matt asked: "Do you remember the last time we sat under that pine, Nancy?" You told me then that your courage had never been tested and you wondered how you'd show up in a pinch. Well, you know now, don't you?"

"I'd forgotten that," she answered softly; then lowered her voice still more, her face flushing a little. "Matt, will you tell me something, honestly? I can't ask Cousin Columbine, she looks so worn and tired; and I've got to know. It's about my feet. These papers said I'd lose them—that my legs were frozen solid to the knees. Was that the truth?"

"Yes, that was true, Nancy. I'm never going to forget the way I felt when the nurse told me an amputation wasn't necessary. I wanted to cheer, or—cry or something. Miss Columbine did cry when I told her."

Nancy swallowed, and it struck the young man that she was still frightened.

"Is there something else you want to know, Nancy?"

"Only—only—well, Mark carried me upstairs when I came home, Matt. Are my feet really all right, or..."

So she'd been lying there acting cheerful and worrying about that thought. Matthew. Oh, she was wonderful!

"Of course they're all right!" he reassured her. "You could walk on them now, only the doctor said you weren't to go too fast. That's straight, Nancy. I wouldn't deceive you a time like this."

The girl sank back limply against her pillow.

"I suppose I'm a morose; for I've wanted to ask that question for days, and was too scared!" She smiled now, at her own foolishness, and added: "If all those complimentary newspaper reporters knew I was terrified at the thought of ending my days in a wheel-chair, I guess they'd be frightfully disillusioned!"

"Disillusioned!" Matt's eyes flashed with protective indignation. "Disillusioned? Why—? Are you planning to stay to dinner, Matt Adams?" called Aurora shrilly. "If so, and you're willing to carry up three trays, you and Miss Columbine can eat with Nancy. What say?"

CHAPTER XXII

"I am well aware, dear Cousin James," wrote Columbine Nelson on the first day of May, "how anxious you are to get your heroic young folks back; but I believe, of association with Miss Aladdin."

Nancy laughed; and Matt said solemnly: "With all due respect to Miss Aladdin, I've a notion that our kid brother is responsible for that change in Mary Taylor." He turned to view the unsuspicious couple seated below, and added: "At any rate, they're both oblivious to the scenery."

Mark chuckled, and rounding a curve, announced: "Here's your pioneer cemetery, Nancy—the one Miss Columbine told about. Shall we view it from here, or are you determined to climb that slope in this hot sun?" "What did you come for?" the girl responded; and as Matt upramp down she took his steady hand and followed. "I wouldn't miss seeing this place for anything. Aren't you all coming?"

Mark shook his head. "I'm starving. I'm going to forage in the lunch box. What do you say, folks?" This last was addressed to Luke and Mary, to whom the lunch box seemed more alluring than the cemetery. So it was with Matt alone that Nancy explored that tragic spot, entering down nobly on graves protected only by sagging fences, the marking on their wooden headboards almost obliterated—some wholly lost amid an overgrowth of weeds and bushes. Perhaps it was the fatality of the place that silenced the young people. Neither spoke for a time; and then Nancy stooped, laying a spray of blossoming pink kimmikinnick on one small unmarked resting place.

"Somebody's baby," she explained, flushing a bit for fear that Matt would think her sentimental; but to her relief he added:

"And all because of one man's greed. I'd hate to be responsible for such a place, Nancy; yet when my thoughts come I'd rather lie in this valley than in a city cemetery with a neatly mowed lawn above me, and a 'perpetual care' sign over my head."

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain"
Remedy You Use
is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's
Well-Being to Unknown
Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Demand and Get "ASPIRIN"

His voice was thoughtful, and with sudden inspiration the girl quoted:

"Under the wide and starry sky
Dig my grave and let me lie."

"Is that how you feel, Matt?"

His eyes lighted at her intuition; but before he could reply, Mark's laughing voice broke in upon them.

"Both poetic and appropriate, young lady; but you two seem to have forgotten that we're on our way. The old folks have caught up with us, but they're too busy to get out, and Jack's already explored this melancholy scene. There's still ten or twelve miles ahead if we're to eat our lunch on the shore of the Platte, as Miss Columbine here set her heart on doing. Have some cake?"

Matthew, who longed to strangle his brother for this intrusion, nevertheless accepted his portion with good grace; while Nancy exclaimed: "You've saved my life, Mark! I'm almost passing out. Isn't the Platte river we read about in history—I mean the one the pioneers were always fording?"

Rise in Diamond Prices

Increase To Release More Stones
For The World Market

London's diamond kings, controllers of the world's supply, are to release for sale more uncut stones within a short time than were sold throughout the whole of the last year.

So convinced are they in England that the world has recovered enough to indulge once more in luxuries that prices are being advanced 7½ per cent, and there is confidence that all stones offered will be sold.

Altogether stones worth more than $15,000,000 will be offered to selected buyers from all parts of the world within two months. The Diamond Corporation, which has accumulated $45,000,000 worth of stones during the years of depression, has been allocated a quota in the sales. Invitations already have been dispatched to representative brokers in Amsterdam, Antwerp, Vienna, Paris, Bombay and New York.

The central selling agency of the diamond groups is in a four-story building off Holborn. Every foreign buyer is shown into a walnut-paneled room. He is accompanied by a representative of the sellers. On a square of plain white paper on a ledge under the window is poured a little heap of graded, uncut stones. It represents a fortune.

The buyer examines the stones, makes his choice, pays his price, and departs with a tiny package as casually as if he had purchased a bag of nuts.

Biggest buyers are expected to be New York and India. U.S. Jewellers' stocks are believed to be lowest since the depression. India's demand is based on "dehoarding" of gold by the princes.

Little Helps For This Week

Love is of God, and every one that loveth is born of God and knoweth God. I John 4:7.

Forbearing one another and forgiving one another. Colossians 3:13.

Oh, might we all our lineage prove,
Give and forgive, do good and love;
By soft endearments, in kind strife,
Lightening the daily load of life.

We may say if we choose make the world of us another. Every one has his faults, every one his weak points, and we may fix our attention constantly on these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive even as we hope to be forgiven. We may put ourselves in the place of others and ask ourselves what we would wish to be done to us were we in their place. By loving whatever is lovable in those around us, love will flow back from them to us and life will be a pleasure instead of a pain. Earth will become like heaven and we shall not be unworthy followers of Him whose name is Love.

Birds Devour Hoppers

Thousands Of Gulls Land And Clear The Fields

In certain parts of southern Alberta where grasshoppers were so numerous this summer vast flocks of gulls were literally covering the fields, rounding up the hoppers, and when they had concluded their attack about 75 per cent. of the insects had been devoured.

Reeve A. Schuch of Rosenheim said that on a field of 60 acres a flock of gulls gilded in from the south and practically covered the ground. He estimated about 50,000 on the entire field. A wave of grasshoppers could be seen travelling ahead of the birds trying to evade them as the gulls walked onward, but by the time the gulls had dined to their satisfaction some three-quarters of the hoppers were no more.

And he couldn't give a proper address without a live exhibit. So into the classroom walked Johnny leading a white pony, with a saddle 'n' everything. He made a good speech, too.

Care Of Children

Lectures To Be Given In New York

To Educate Mothers

An institute to debunk the ancient myth that all mothers are good mothers was founded in New York with plans to promote its idea by lectures and clinics. The institute's program was outlined by Bernard Deutsch, president of the New York board of aldermen.

"Every waking in life, to be truly successful, needs long and weary training," he said. "Why except motherhood?" Let us debunk the ancient myth once and for all. There are good mothers, bad mothers, indifferent mothers, and ignorant mothers." By instructing women in proper care of children, the institute is to attempt improving the motherhood "ability" of its pupils.

POPPY DAY

The symbolism of the Poppy, the sorrowful appropriateness of its blood-red bloom, takes a deeper significance with each succeeding year. The Great War is passing almost into legend; a generation is bequeathed the duty of carrying into the years that have yet to come the work and the ideals of those whom the Poppy commemorates.

Canada has adopted the Poppy as a symbol because of the 60,000 graves in Canada, France and Belgium, in which lie the dead of the preceding generation; because of the 170,000 Canadians to whom the conflict brought dismemberment of one kind or another. The crosses in the cemeteries of Flanders are garlanded with Poppies—dolorous emblems of a nation's youth consumed in the "Wrathful forge of War."

On Poppy Day, this Dominion pausing in its normal activities, recalls the sacrifices of its young men; pays tribute to their heroism, their hardship and the uncompromising fortitude with which they bore their privations and sufferings. At the same time, Canada strives to liquidate in some small measure an obligation to those disabled men employed in the Vetracraft workshops of the country, whose only means of livelihood is the making of these simple emblems.

The wide ramifications of the great Canadian Legion, with its tens of thousands of workers on Poppy Day, take care of the distribution of these Poppies throughout Canada. There is thus ensured to their disabled comrades in these Vetracraft shops a loyal performance of a sorrowful yet prideful task.

All Canadians of every age and degree should wear a symbol on Poppy Day, for that is surely a day of re-consecration and of re-dedication to the work on hand of continuing the structure of civilization where the workers of a previous generation left off.

The holding of sweepstakes in aid of the Kootenay Lake general hospital at Nelson has been prohibited by the attorney-general's department at Victoria. The last drawing was held in the early part of this month, and subscribers were duly notified that it would be the last. During the time the sweepstakes were being held, the hospital received help to the amount of $23,000, which, as the statement aptly says, "kept the key on the inside of the door." It proved a big help to the hospital, and afforded the people an opportunity of giving vent to their sporting urge at little expense.—Ex.

Paving the way for the $5 minimum cash payment monthly to rural families in need of relief, an order-in-council has been passed by the provincial government. As a result, municipal secretaries are being circled in order that the plan can be brought to the attention of rural authorities and the extent of the response gauged by the government. The plan was outlined recently by Premier Aberhart, who said it was not to be regarded as providing a real basic dividend. While the minimum amount was set at $5, which would be provided by the government, the municipality would be expected to match it with $2.50. As compensation for its contribution, the municipality could require the relief recipient to give some return in work.

TAXPAYING BUSINESS—MEN AND INTRUDERS

A contentious point between the two local printing proprietors and stationery salesmen from out-of-town was brought before the council on Monday evening by Councillor T. R. Hughes. While probably Mr. Hughes had not intended mentioning the type of business he had in mind when bringing up the matter of salesmen from the east, the category finally leaked out as questions were asked. The curtain dropped on the subject with the final declaration that nothing could be done about it.

Something can and should be done about it! Here we have two printing and publishing establishments in the city, endeavoring to give a job printing and newspaper service to the city and its environs. The owners of the two plants collectively pay annually into the city coffers approximately one thousand dollars in taxes. What do the salesmen pay who come here from Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver and even Calgary? Nothing—absolutely nothing—except a hotel bill.

At this time the city is considering several amendments to the city charter and one point brought up on Monday was the taxation of transient musicians, dance orchestras, etc. While it is proposed to levy a tax against these musical serendoms, who probably do not take two hundred dollars per year out of Drumheller, stationery salesmen, with their smooth line-of-chatter, comb the city and mine offices in the district and relieve our business men and mine operators of hundreds upon hundreds of dollars per year in exchange for stationery—and get away with it!

There are some printing jobs which can be executed a lot cheaper in the larger city shops. These shops are equipped with the most modern automatic presses and other machinery which the local printer could never hope to buy because his business is not large enough to merit it. But on the whole, there is a mistaken idea about the purchase of stationery. Local business people will request the printing office for a price on one thousand forms of a certain kind which for argument's sake we shall say will cost six dollars. The customer places the order. At a later date a stationery traveller comes along, sees the form and volunteers the information that he can supply the same form for four dollars a thousand in five thousand lots—so could the local printer, but unfortunately he is seldom asked for more than a couple of thousand on any job, and if larger quantities are suggested the reply is: "A couple of thousand will last us a long time."

Only last week a salesman was in Drumheller from Toronto, offering printed envelopes at $8.25 for two thousand, stating that this was a special price for a short time, the regular price being eleven dollars. Undoubtedly he got some orders. May be, by way of information, state that The Mail can supply the same grade of envelope at $9.50 per two thousand, regular price; so that by the time a Drumheller businessman pays express on two thousand envelopes from Toronto, he will be very little, if anything, ahead of the Drumheller price.

A franchise on printing is not sought by us or our local contemporary, but we do ask some measure of protection, by the imposition of a tax on the salesmen who take orders for stationery. There is no earthly reason why he should be exempt if other transient traders and transient musicians are going to be taxed for doing business within the confines of the city.

If other merchandise were bought out of town on the same scale of percentage as that of printing and stationery there would be one mighty howl from Drumheller's businessmen. It is common knowledge that a great deal of merchandise comes into Drumheller from the large mail order houses, and that will be difficult to prevent, unless Premier Aberhart actually establishes his just price

On the evening of October 21st, the Cowley girls' club held their annual meeting at the home of Miss Clare Bundy. After routine business was disposed of, officers for the coming year were elected, with Miss Marie Wood being made president, and Miss Clare Bundy secretary-treasurer. Under the scheme, the books would be kept at a school for two months before being moved to another.

Mr. Aberhart, by raising the price of liquor, believes he will add to the revenue of the province. We are open to bet, if he indulges in this wicked pastime, that he will miss his guess by a mile. Liquor is a luxury, he reasons; therefore put a tax on it and use that money to help pay for the keep of unemployed. Splendid logic, but does not Douglas argue that people should be encouraged, not discouraged, to consume the commodities which are legally produced? In other words, a further tax on beers and liquors means only one thing—less consumption, and ultimately, less revenue for the province.—Drumheller New Review.

sure to have the opportunity of ad-

singing of the many contestants exceeded his fondest expectations.

He lauded particularly the work of George Kerr in the mastering of "Berceuse" Op. 38 by Greig, as arranged by Meister. He stated that he seldom gave a mark of 90 or over in any festival in which he had acted as adjudicator, but during this festival he was forced to give five competitors the high mark of 90, and two others over 90.

He also complimented highly the excellent work being done by Mr.
Moffatt as music teacher in several schools of The Pass, and trusted that the public would continue to co-operate with him.

programme, certificates, etc., were presented by the president of the Festival, Mr. William Kerr, of Bellevue.

Many Refinements in Ford V-8 Cars for 1936

FORD V-8 CARS for 1936 feature a completely new exterior treatment with new hood and fender styling, new grille and headlamps, new wheels and many detail refinements. Interiors are new with the style and color of instrument panel and mouldings to harmonize with upholstery, trim and appointments. Quiet helical gears are now used in all forward speeds and reverse. Steering effort is estimated to be reduced more than 25 per cent. ABOVE—The Tudor touring sedan, with commodious built-in trunk. Note the new wheels with 12½-inch hub caps and the longer body lines. INSET—The redesigned front end. Streamlining steps ahead. Fenders have a sweeping inward flare and horns are now carried behind grille in the fenders. Hood louvers are newly styled.

Ford V-8 cars for 1936, of which details have just been announced by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, reveal no radical changes in design but include a number of mechanical refinements and attractive new front-end appearance.

Body lines which strike a new note in conservative streamlining, a new treatment of the interiors and three important refinements in chassis engineering summarize the principal improvements. The 90-horsepower V-8 engine, of which more than 2,000,000 are now in operation, is unaltered.

Of the three principal chassis improvements, one—improved steering is aimed at greater ease and safety of operation. Two others tend to greater comfort. One is the use of new steel wheels which lessen the unsprung weight and thus provide greater riding comfort. The other is an improved transmission using quiet helical gears—formerly used only in second and high speeds—in all forward speeds and reverse.

PLAN MERGER OF DEPARTMENTS IN FEDERAL CABINET

Ottawa.—Assembling of a Dominion-provincial conference at an early date, reduction in the size of the Dominion cabinet by merger of departments and adoption of the British system of appointing parliamentary under-secretaries to assist cabinet ministers were three announcements made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

As soon as the new cabinet had been sworn in Mr. King issued a statement explaining his views on these matters.

Prime Minister King intimated that after the government was sworn in cabinet could immediately discuss preliminary plans with respect to calling of the Dominion-provincial conference, constitution of the national unemployment commission and matters relating to trade with Great Britain, United States and Japan.

Finance Minister Dunning will have, in addition to provincial financing, the question of heavy refunding operations to deal with.

Many administrative changes will result from the merger of six departments which involve the disappearance of three portfolios. Transportation will be gathered into one jurisdiction with the merger of railways and marine departments, the interior department will be merged with immigration and colonization, and the office of solicitor-general disappears completely with the duties of that minister taken over by the minister of justice.

All these changes will require legislative action and numerous staff and office adjustments. Considerable reorganization will be required also to bring about proposed adoption of the English system of parliamentary secretaries to the ministers of major departments. Members of the House of Commons will be chosen in the same manner as ministers are selected, to act as assistants to the ministers of certain departments. They will be on full time with salaries, and, while not attending meetings of the government will be empowered to speak for their departments in the House of Commons, thus relieving the ministers of a burden which, in some instances, has proven heavy.

Search For Meteor

Excavation Work Carried On In Manitoba District

Fortier, Man.—A crew of men worked to excavate what is believed to be a meteorite that thundered out of the skies during a severe electrical storm Oct. 15.

Residents of this district, 35 miles west of Winnipeg, declared a "roaring noise" was heard during the night. The next day a hole 12 inches in diameter was found within 40 feet of the home of Cornelius Giebrecht and within 70 feet of the general store of A. B. Manning.

The noise was first believed to have been lightning striking the ground. Later the belief was expressed it might have been a meteor. No indication of the meteor has yet been uncovered but excavation work is under way at the scene.

Excavation work is under direction of Prof. V. W. Jackson, of the University of Manitoba.

Canada At League

Seat Given On Governing Body Of International Labor Office

Geneva.—Canada was unanimously elected to the governing body of the International labor office in succession to Germany. In acknowledging the election, Dr. Walter Riddell, the Dominion's advisory officer here, said it came at a time when the interests of the Canadian people in social and industrial problems was greater than ever before.

The government body selected Dr. Riddell as chairman.

The international labor office is closely connected with the League of Nations, but has a parallel organization of its own here, also set up by the peace treaty of 1919. The governing body consists of 12 representatives of member governments. It organizes international conferences with view to agreement on enforcing higher standing of labor.

Will Attend Naval Conference

Rome.—Informed quarters here believed Italy's participation in the naval conference proposed for December was virtually assured. Although no official statement has been issued, it is understood Italy is unlikely to refuse to attend.

Heavy Taxation

Hearst Claims Nearly Ninety Per Cent Of Income Goes To State

Hollywood, Calif.—William Hearst, in a letter to the Hollywood editors of Variety, declared that high California taxes have compelled him to close his places in this state "and live almost entirely in New York."

Focusing upon the recently enacted California income tax, the publisher expressed fear a large number of people "with considerable incomes" are planning to reside elsewhere, and forewent an opportunity for development of the motion picture industry in states with easier taxes.

"The California income tax goes to 15 per cent," the letter said. "Add to this the federal income taxes and the New York taxes, plus many other taxes, and I find that over 90 per cent of my income will go in taxes—in fact it may be nearer 90 per cent."

Important Measures

Alberta Premier To Take Steps To Relieve Hardships In Province

Edmonton.—Forecasting important measures to relieve farm debt burdens and hardship in Alberta, Premier Aberhart warned that no one need think that all he had to do was to sit back and wait for basic dividends to come.

At an official luncheon tendered the new Social Credit government by the city of Edmonton, Premier Aberhart said: "You will shortly hear of a way that farmers can get out from under their heavy mortgage load."

The premier pleaded for sympathy and co-operation and promised that not a single step would be taken by the government without the best expert advice.

May Repudiate Pacts

Sir Herbert Samuel Refers To The Ottawa Agreements

London.—Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the Liberal opposition, in the House of Commons, interpreted the election defeat of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett as repudiation of the Ottawa economic agreements by the people of Canada.

During a discussion of the international situation, Sir Herbert said the agreement reached at the Ottawa imperial conference of 1932 were one of the main causes of the present unrest.

The world had taken those agreements, he said, as an indication that British Empire was to be made into a closed system.

Uncover Plot

Soviet Authorities See Plans To Disrupt Rail Traffic

Moscow.—Soviet authorities announced that police at Kiev had uncovered an attempt to disrupt railway traffic in certain sections of Russia.

Twenty persons were arrested at Kiev, all said to be followers of Leon Trotsky, exiled Soviet revolutionary proponent of world revolution. They will be accused before the Kharkov tribunal of fostering plans to sabotage the Soviet Union's already seriously handicapped communications system.

May Be Candidate

Sir Malcolm Campbell, Racing Driver, May Enter Election Contest

London.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, the racing driver, notified the Deftford Conservative Association he is willing to stand as a candidate for the division at the general election, in place of Denis Hanley, who is retiring.

Arthur Roy Ducross, son of Sir Arthur Ducross has been named to stand for Carnarvon against David Lloyd George. Mr. Ducross is barely 23 years of age, a graduate of Oxford. He will be admitted to the bar in January.

Sanctions Approved

Durban, Union of South Africa.—Three resolutions designed to hinder Italy's campaign in Ethiopia were passed at a meeting of 600 persons in the city hall. The resolutions called upon the government to prohibit the export of meat to the Italian army, to cancel the Italian shipping subsidy and to put in force any further economic sanctions within their power.

A Careful Driver

Edmonton.—Presentation of a watch to Alex Williamson, truck driver, in recognition of his driving 273,000 miles on the Edmonton-Calgary highway without an accident, was made by directors of the Alberta Motor Association.

MILITARY ACTION IS NOT PROPOSED AGAINST ITALY

London.—Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, issued an appeal for an honorable settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian controversy and said Great Britain had no intention of acting alone to halt the campaign in East Africa.

Sir Samuel outlined in detail the progress of the quarrel between the two countries in opening debate in the House of Commons on the international situation.

Sanctions to be taken against Italy were economic and not military, he said. "We have never even proposed to the French consideration of any military measures."

Certain countries failed to realize, said Sir Samuel, that "most of us regard the league as a bridge between Great Britain and Europe and that if this bridge is gravely weakened or broken, cooperation between us and the continent becomes difficult and dangerous."

He said they "did not realize the sincerity of our hope and faith in the new order of international relations. They failed to understand our belief in the league as an instrument, not only for stopping war, but also as an instrument for removing its causes."

The foreign secretary emphasized that Britain's interest in collective security and world peace was the motive for her firm stand at Geneva. "No thought of imperial interest save a natural concern, which a world-forging empire must feel for preservation of world-wide peace, has entered into our minds."

Towards the end of his speech Sir Samuel said: "The league, let us remember, is a great instrument of peace. Let critics remember this fact when they say that we ought at once to close the Suez canal and cut Italian communications."

Such action, taken alone, would destroy Britain's contention that this is not a quarrel between Great Britain and Italy. There would never be collective agreement for such action, he declared.

Sir Samuel's speech was followed by vigorous opposition attacks upon government policies, led by Major Clement Richard Attlee, Labor, and Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal, which furnished a keynote for the election, expected to be fought out largely on international issues.

Sir Samuel urged that the short breathing spell before the application of economic sanctions against Mussolini's government be used in an attempt for peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

The foreign secretary, addressing commons on its reassembling, asked if an eleven hour chance cannot be used to make unnecessary further progress along "the unattractive road of economic action against a fellow league member, an old friend and a former ally."

Arctic Route

Moscow.—Steam navigation from Europe to the far east by way of the Arctic ocean has been put on a practical basis, Otto Schmidt, head of the Soviet northern sea route department, reported to Joseph Stalin.

Waterways Treaty

St. Lawrence Project Awaits Ratification From Washington

Ottawa.—Defeat of the Bennett administration and inauguration of a ministry headed by Liberal Leader King will make no difference in the status of the St. Lawrence waterways treaty with Washington, it was said here.

The treaty will remain pigeonholed until ratified by the American senate by a two-third vote. Then the new government would be forced to consider it and have it either passed by parliament or defeated.

Although Premier-elect King has never made public his views on the treaty, two of his provincial lieutenants, Premier Hepburn of Ontario and Premier Taschereau of Quebec, have opposed it, the former most strenuously.

Cost Of War

Italy Is Paying Heavily For Operations In Ethiopia

Geneva.—Statistics of the Bank of International Settlements sent to the League of Nations indicated the cost to Italy of the Ethiopia war.

The figures showed during the first 10 days of October the bank of Italy lost 206,000,000 lira in gold. Experts estimated if this figure is taken as an average, about 433,000,000 lira, or over 10 per cent of the Italian gold reserve at the end of September, has been withdrawn in the past three weeks.

Goes To The Front

Rome.—Dr. Filippo Tommaso Marinetti, poet and author and Italy's "Father of Futurism," sailed for East Africa to join troops in East Africa as a captain. News of his sailing caused amusement in military circles, because although Marinetti is acknowledged to be a good soldier—he holds two Great War medals for valor—he is more famous as a bizarre artist.

Boy Actor

Freddy Bartholomew Becomes Legal Ward Of Aunt

Los Angeles.—Freddy Bartholomew, 11-year-old screen actor, became the legal ward of an aunt, Miss Mylicent Mary Bartholomew, and in the superior court hearing gave his opinion on what happens to boys who tell lies.

Attorney Felix Cunningham, representing Miss Bartholomew, asked the child actor if he understood what it meant to swear to tell the truth and then what happens to boys who do not.

"They probably go to hell," said Freddy candidly.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Llewellyn, now in England where Freddy was born, opposed the guardianship petition.

Miss Bartholomew testified she had had exclusive care and custody of Freddy for eight years and had carefully explained the reason for the trip to Hollywood to his parents. She said the young actor had a contract to work 40 weeks each year in pictures at $1,000 a week.

PAYS A TRIBUTE TO THE GOODWILL OF CANADIANS

London.—The Earl of Beasborough, speaking at a dinner tendered him by the Canadian club, urged that more people travel between Great Britain and Canada and paid warm tribute to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Prime Minister-elect Mackenzie King.

The earl, who has just completed a term as governor-general of Canada, recalled with approval the suggestions made by Premier Baldwin at the Ottawa imperial conference of 1922 for exchange of civil servants between Whitehall and Ottawa.

The former governor-general paid tribute to the goodwill shown him by Canadians. He owed a great deal to the assistance of Lady Beasborough. "If any of the many kind things said about us in Canada are true, the credit is due entirely to my wife," he said.

Mr. Bennett, he declared, was respected by people of all political parties in Canada. The earl described "Mr. Bennett as a" prodigious worker, of phenomenal memory and great ability, with a particular knowledge of financial and legal questions.

"During my time in Canada—one of unexampled depression—difficult problems presented themselves continuously, some of them of great urgency. However burdened or exhausted by the care of office, I always found Mr. Bennett in our personal relations most patient and considerate, ever ready to give his best in any questions that arose—a staunch and loyal friend for whom no pains were too great to help his friends.

"His Majesty's government has no more devoted servant and in the cause of empire no more convinced adherent."

The former governor-general recalled that when he arrived in Canada, "the first thing that Mr. Mackenzie King said to me was that there was anything the opposition could do to assist me he was entirely at my disposal. In the year that followed he was as good and better than his word. Our personal relations at all times were of the most delightful character."

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in London, was given an ovation by the gathering. He paid tribute to the great public services of the Earl of Beasborough in Canada.

"He lived up to the highest ideals of British public service and exercised an influence ateady in effect and helpful in guiding Canada through one of the most depressing periods in history."

He also paid tribute to Lady Beasborough and said "the crowning achievement of the Beasboroughs was the production of a young Canadian." (A son was born to their Excellencies at Montreal in 1931).

J. H. Thomas, dominion's secretary, likewise commended the earl for his remarkable public service and devotion.

Referring to the ovation paid Mr. Ferguson, he said: "We are not unmindful of the changes which must necessarily occur, but I would be wanting in my duty if I did not say publicly how every Canadian and every Britisher is proud of the great service rendered by the high commissioner to his country."

Mr. Ferguson, it expected shortly to place his resignation in the hands of the Canadian government, following the defeat of the Conservative party in the general election.)

CALL A NAVAL CONFERENCE TO MEET DECEMBER 2

London.—Great Britain formally invited the United States, Japan, France and Italy to a naval conference at London.

The government set the date for December 2, and followed up the invitations with an announcement in commons by Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, that the purpose of the conference would be to obtain an agreement replacing treaties expiring in 1936.

These are the Washington and London naval limitation pacts.

In Paris, officials said France would accept the invitation. Naval minister Francois Pietri, it was expected would join the British in asking qualitative instead of global (tonnage) restriction of fleets, which Japan has sought.

In Washington the state department announced the United States had accepted the invitation also.

In Tokyo, vernacular newspapers quoted anonymous naval officials as saying the attitude of the United States on parity promises little hope of success for the conference, although a foreign office spokesman said the government hope for tangible results.

The government expected immediate acceptance of the invitations and designation of the various ambassadors here as chief delegates, assisted by technical experts, to lay the groundwork for the convale.

Italy Withdraws Troops

Gesture Of Good Will Is Made Towards Britain

Rome.—Italy made a definite gesture of good will toward Great Britain by ordering the withdrawal of one division of soldiers from Libya but at the same time a spokesman asserted settlement of the Ethiopian war would be difficult "as long as the sanctionist machine works at Geneva."

Discussing the removal of the troops, which have been concentrated upon the border of Egypt, a fact Britain regarded as a threat, the spokesman said:

"Our actions have been taken on our own initiative. Italy hopes the move will be interpreted as a friendly gesture."

The steamer Sannio, capable of carrying 2,000 troops, sailed from Naples for Libya under orders to be ready to take off contingents of the Metauvo division.

A government spokesman said Mussolini's gesture in Libya represents "a major contribution" to the solution of the problem of peace, not only in Europe but also in East Africa.

The matter, of course, does not dispose of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. But in informed quarters belief was expressed that it lays a foundation for a solution, impossible so long as tension existed between Italy and Britain.

Mussolini started a drive against the League of Nations to legalize Italy's Ethiopian conquests.

War forces on two fronts gave him accomplished facts with which to confront the League of Nations. Big and rich Tigre province of Ethiopia, taken by General Emilio de Bono and his troops, has been formally annexed.

To Run For Parliament

Ramsay MacDonald Will Be Candidate For Re-Election

London.—J. Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council, will again run for parliament in Seaham, it was announced. This ended rumors the former prime minister was soon accept a peerage, or would run in another seat. Seaham is regarded as a Labor stronghold, but Mr. MacDonald retained it by a majority of almost 6,000 in 1931, shortly after he had formed a national government and suffered expulsion from the Labor party.

Burglars Caught

Winnipeg.—A South Winnipeg confectionery proved a jinx to burglars. At two a.m. two men who had forced a door were found in the store and arrested. The door was repaired. At four a.m., police caught two more burglars busily packing up stolen goods.
